PROHIBITION LOSES IN MAINE

UNOFFICIAL RETURNS INDICATE ANTI-VICTORY BY 1,400 VOTES.

Portland, Maine, Sept. 11.—Unofficial and only partly revised returns from 499 out of 521 cities and towns in Maine today give a majority of 904 for repeal of the prohibitory constitutional amendment. The missing twenty-two towns cast less than 385 votes at the state election three years ago.

The total vote was for repeal 60,782 against 59,878.

Portland, Maine, Sept. 11.—Unofficial returns late tonight indicated that prohibition has been voted out of the constitution of the state of Maine by a majority of about 1,400 votes.

About twenty-five small towns had not been reported and the vote of these, together with errors incident to the collection of returns by telephone, still left the exact result in some doubt.

One hundred and twenty thousand voters cast ballots.

With the twenty-five towns missing, the vote was 60,870 for repeal and 59,563 against a change in the constitution.

Cities Against Country. As had been predicted, the cities were the chief strongholds of the repeal faction, but the majority of 12,000 in the total city vote was barely sufficient, according to the latest available returns, to offset the votes of the rural communities.

The election was without question

What Makes a Good Cigar?

There are three things that go to make a good cigar: Good tobaccos, perfectly blended, skilled labor and knowing how to combine the two. We don't buy cigars because we like the man who sells them. We know how they are made, what they are made of, which accounts for the popularity of the cigars we sell.

We especially recommend a new cigar we have just got in which is unquestionably the best value for 5c on the market today. The filler has a fine flavor and aroma and it burns evenly and is good down to the last puff. If you are a discriminating smoker, don't fail to try one.

Slashes Wife and Ten Kills Self.

Lawton, Okla., Sept. 11.—Frank Fitzgerald is dead by his own hand and his wife may not recover from wounds he inflicted on her body before he cut his own throat. Fitzgerald returned here Saturday night from Texas where he has been for some time. His wife conducted a house in the city and Fitzgerald went there. The couple had previously had trouble before Fitzgerald left. When he got back he found that his wife's former husband, from whom she had been divorced, had been a frequent caller at the house and this made him furious. Fitzgerald began quarreling with his wife and drawing a knife started to slash her. Screams brought the former husband who was also staying in the house. Fitzgerald cut his wife in several places and when the other man appeared Fitzgerald backed up against the door and cut his throat. He died instantly.

A VISIT TO THE NORMAL

ENROLLMENT REACHES 170—GOOD INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR.

This morning a representative of the News paid a short visit to the normal. The whole building was the scene of activity, and both the teachers and the students were scurrying to and fro putting everything in trim for launching into a year of hard work. In fact, it all seemed so home-like that the reporter felt inclined to matriculate, but Prof. Perkins stated that this would necessitate a careful investigation of his past record, including the cause of his leaving Texas. This was a trifle too much, and the reporter retired.

The enrollment had reached 170, exclusive of the model school, in which 30 were enrolled in Miss Timberlake's primary department, and 14 in Miss King's eighth grade.

The enrollment is far ahead of the opening of last year, although at that time it was some larger by reason of the fact that there was no ninth grade in the public school than it would otherwise have been. Furthermore, the number of boarding pupils has been considerably increased.

A fine spirit seemed to prevail among the faculty and student body, a very essential condition to good work in any school.

CITY FATHERS IN SESSION

The council held a breezy session last evening, and some animated speeches were made on various questions presented. Alderman Ratliff and Mayor Chapman kept the meeting from being dull by a few differences on points of order and by their inability to agree on when it was time for Mr. Ratliff to sit down.

Of course the passing on claims occupied some little time, and among those allowed was $636.87 to D. T. Johnson on the waterworks line. This claim led to a lengthy discussion of various phases of the question of claims against it, and it was finally agreed that all holding claims against the line should file same with the city clerk before September 25. This will enable the city to ascertain just how much it might be held for, and to see that all claims are properly adjusted.

The mayor was instructed to sign a contract with the Sheep Creek Telephone Co. regarding the use of the company's poles for stringing the wire from the city to the pumping station.

It was also agreed that a four room house should be built at the station for the use of the pump man.

The city engineer was asked to prepare estimates both on fencing the spring and for roofing it over, the council deeming it necessary to take steps to prevent the source of supply from becoming contaminated.

M. P. Eaton offered his resignation as night policeman and Frank Neal was elected to succeed him.

SOUTH MAKES GREAT GAINS IN WEALTH

New York, Sept. 12.—"I wish that, if the senate committee on interstate commerce undertakes to investigate business, industrial and labor conditions this fall, it will receive in evidence the amazing report of the growth of the south in recent years which has been compiled and compacted into a brief statement by Richard S. Edmonds, the editor of the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore."

This was the comment made by one of the leading business men of New York after he had learned what some of the statistics collected by Edmonds are.

E. H. Harriman used to speak of the "empire-like southwest," saying that he believed that the southwest would in the future be the wealthiest and the most wealth producing region in the union. That has also been the opinion of B. F. Yoakum.

South "Empirelike." Edmonds' compilation, however, shows that the sixteen southern states may be as appropriately described with the enthusiasm with which Harriman spoke of the "empire-like southwest" as that region which includes Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, Arkansas, Oklahoma and southern California could.

Our exports of manufactured products have in money value within ten years caught up to and surpassed the money value of our exports of agricultural products. Edmonds' statement shows that almost one-half of the total exports of the United States in the last fiscal year originated in the south. In addition a little over one-third of the total exports from the United States passed through southern ports.

In the last fiscal year the money value of the exports from one southern port was twice as great as the total value of the entire exports from the Pacific coast, and was nearly $25,000,000 more than the combined value of Pacific coast exports and imports. The foreign exports from one southern port exceeded by nearly $40,000,000 the combined exports of San Francisco, Boston and Philadelphia.

Increased Foreign Trade. The southern states are exporting much more than cotton, and all the indications point to a vastly increased general foreign commerce after the Panama canal is opened.

The farmers of the southern states now possess farm properties of the value of nearly $8,000,000,000. This sum represents a wide distribution of wealth and is explained by the increase in the money value of the twelve leading crops of the sixteen southern states, which advanced from a little under $1,000,000,000 in 1900 to a little under $2,000,000,000 nine years later.

POLITICS IN MEXICO

EYE WITNESS DESCRIBES PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN THAT IS NOW ON.

The following description of a Mexican political campaign is taken from a private letter written by a man who has spent several years in that nation, and is evidently not very optimistic concerning the prospects. Says he:

Our revolution is officially over and we are now having a free election. They are still scrapping among themselves in places and will for years to come. They are so interested in politics that they are not bothering us. This is the first time anybody ever had a chance to electioneer and they are enjoying it I can tell you. The papers especially, are fairly reveling in freedom. That means to say anything they want to whether it is true or not and the "villifying" they give the "other" party (and there are at least a dozen) is a joy to behold. It isn't mud-slinging—its filth that they sling. Newspapers spring up over night. I guess that here alone there are twenty-five new dailies each one rooting for their men. You can't get head or tail of the situation. Madero seems to be the most popular presidential possibility, but he's getting his from the papers. Reyes is second in the betting and no telling who will be vice president. Everytime they hold a convention it breaks up in a fight and if one party tries to have a street parade the other tries to break it up. They wind up in a row. They had an awful row in Mexico City last Sunday when the "Reyesites" as they style themselves tried to parade. The Maderists broke it up in a riot. Ah, we certainly are allowing every candidate a fair show. I don't think. It just isn't the nature of the people to allow the other fellow his opinion if it differs from theirs. What the result will be no man can tell. Reyes has a strong following and Madero has stood in the lime light too long—it shows up weak spots. My earnest wish is that they will fight it out to a total extermination on both sides.

Miss Mayme Matthews and her friend, Miss Minnie Rae of Roff, returned this morning from their vacation trip to Colorado.

HORSE GRABS MUSTACHE OF INNOCENT BYSTANDER

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 12.—Chas. Morris, a dairyman, has a horse that circus people say is the most docile equine they have ever seen. "Polite," as the animal is called by Morris, has one bad habit, and that is snatching cigars from the mouths of persons whom he sees smoking.

Morris left the horse standing in front of a drug store at Sixth street and Liberty avenue, while he delivered cream to a soda fountain.

T. W. Negley, a broker, was standing nearby conversing with friends. Negley was smoking a big 25-center. "Polite" without warning, walked up on the pavement and made a grab for the cigar.

The equine got the cigar, also Negley's mustache.

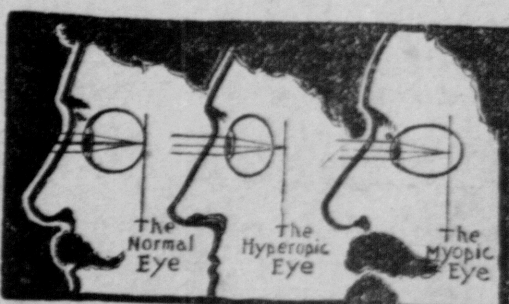

Mr. Negley was very indignant over the loss of his mustache, as he declared he had "nursed" it for years. He immediately entered suit against Morris.

Pardons by Acting Governor.

Oklahoma City, Ok., Sept. 11.—Acting Gov. McAlester today granted a pardon to Charles Starr, convicted in Adair county last December for manslaughter and sentenced to serve one year; Walter Allen, sentenced to Granite reformatory from Haskell county for one year for larceny, and John Muskrat, sentenced from Adair county for five years for adultery. Muskrat was paroled last October by Gov. Haskell.

L. C. Lindsey has a patch of four and one-half acres of turnips which he says is the finest ever. Evidently Ada will be well supplied with greens this fall.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

For the convenience of the public, the Evening News will hereafter be on sale at the Postoffice News stand for the small sum of 2c. The same rate will prevail at the News office. This is less than the actual cost of the paper, and it is impossible to make the price any lower. The publishers would like to give it away, but every paper costs money to print, and if it is worth reading at all, the News is certainly worth the small sum asked for it.

The News has observed in its day that many men make an oily tongue answer admirably in place of elbow grease.

The growth of Dan Hayes addition will soon necessitate the building of a viaduct across the Katy at some point further south than the one on 12th street.

By way of showing off its abundant water supply Durant is advertising a water fight. Eight men, four to a side, will fight with fire hoses as weapons. Full pressure will be turned on and the participants thoroughly soaked. Perhaps the Ada boys would like to celebrate the advent of Byrd's Mill water in the same way.

The much discussed Astor-Force wedding has at last been pulled off and high society is busy looking up some other juicy topic for conversation. The Astors might not have caused so much dust had it not occurred at a time when very little real scandal was in the air.

Up in Kansas a bunch of young toughs tore the clothing from a young lady teacher and applied a coat of tar and feathers. One of the number has been given a year in jail and others are likely to follow. If such an outrage had occurred in Oklahoma and the girl had any male relatives, the chances are that the county would fraught with circumstances of disappointment, so it is with the winning of the most desirable water supply in Oklahoma; there is brought home the realization of the knowledge of the poor and infantile working organization of Ada's Chamber of Commerce, inasmuch it was not equal to pulling off a celebration of the event of the water, a great celebration which would have been the most natural thing in the world, and one which would have been worth thousands of dollars to Ada as an advertisement.

MCALISTER TELLS OF EARLY DAYS

Oklahoma City, Ok., Sept. 11.—
"Rates we charged for freighting in the early days down here would appear mighty alluring to the common carrier of today," said Acting Gov.
McAlester to a circle of callers. Col.
McAlester settled in Indian Territory coming from Arkansas following the war between the states, and with his father and brothers engaged in freighting from Fort Smith to all points in the Southwest north of Red River.

With the first state administration he was elected member of the Corporation commission, an organization that has to do with regulation of public service corporations and the fixing of rates for transportation.

"All our trips were made with oxen and heavy wagons," related the Colonel, "and we usually charged $6 per 100 pounds for a trip. If the load was heavy and likely to give us extra care, the rate was higher in proportion to the responsibility. In the latter '60s we hauled the first house to where Fort Sill now lies. I was a strapping young man then, fresh from the Confederate army and its hardships, with never a care about hard work. A man named Evans, then of St. Louis, but long since dead, established a store at that point for general trading within a district of 100 miles around. He bought a storehouse in St. Louis, where it was made, set up, then knocked down, the parts numbered and shipped to the Sill country. It came by water to Ft.
Smith, where we took it with his stock of goods on the wagons and with yoke after yoke of oxen drove over the country. Later the federal government, after establishing Fort Sill, sent a sawmill outfit to the fort, for the purpose of cutting lumber, and we got that job, with boiler and all, for which we charged $8 per 100 pounds. That looks pretty good beside the authorized all-rail route charges of today. I would say, but the freighter had to consider the hazard. It was a tedious trip, the method of travel being necessarily slow, and in picking our way over the country we had to avoid rough places as much as possible. Had that boiler been dumped by the roadside through an accident, I do not know whether the government would have built any houses at Fort Sill or not.

"In those days the country was full of Indians. The casual observer would have classed it as 'extra wild,' but we never had trouble. Indians were an honest set. I recall when this same man, Evans, passed through the country with $70,000, and was not molested. I have made trips with large sums of money without the slightest fear. The traveler would ride up to a shack to stay all night and hand his saddle bags to the Indian, saying, 'Much money,' and the Indian would throw them under his bed, where you would find them the next morning. Nobody thought about counting the cash or getting a receipt.

"While I was on the commission listening to the testimony of rate experts and general officers of railroad companies it was a mystery to me why they were unable to tell to a penny just what the cost and revenue of a shipment or trip figured. Of course, there are many ins and outs to the transportation business nowadays that we did not have to contend with, but dollars and cents were just the same. We carried but little provisions, but we kept a close record of everything we spent. For instance, when we would leave Fort Smith we would open an account with ourselves, putting down the oxen, wagons, blankets, sixshooters, rifles, cartridges, etc., as capital for the trip. Cartridges cost us, I think, about $1.50 a box. When we killed a wild turkey, we would charge ourselves 1 1-2c and give credit for 25c, that being what we regarded turkeys worth. If it was a prairie chicken we took credit for 10c. We had no time to kill rabbits or squirrels and there were no quails to speak of. A deer came higher, of course, in the class with bears and calves. But when we got back home there were two sides of the ledgers, and they told the tale in cold figures.

"I was fresh from the army and could shoot a revolver or rifle well.
All the killing was done with those weapons, and any time we could not put a bullet through a turkey's neck we were in bad form. We had neither flour nor meal, but lived on beef and game with a little coffee to wash it down. Why didn't we carry flour or meal? Too much trouble. I remember one trip we took a sack of meal, ground coarse, and the wagon turned over near old Stonewall, spilling the meal on the ground. We lost a whole day drying out the stuff, because we did not want to leave it.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research.
Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the mar-

"The Accomplice"

A story of an actress in love with a young society man who is deeply in need of money. She is invited to dine with a wealthy club man. It is arranged while she is holding his attention, her lover is to enter the house and burglarize it. It ends with a thrilling climax; the acting and scenery is excellent from every point of view.

Adair-White.

Sunday evening, Mr. James Adair and Miss Mace White were quietly married at the Asbury Methodist church parsonage, Rev. Marshall Dupree officiating.

The bride is well known to a large circle of Ada friends, by whom she is held in the highest esteem. For the past two years she attended the Ada normal, where she was deservedly popular among both teachers and fellow students.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Adair. He has grown to manhood in this vicinity, and is a young man of strong character and one who is capable of making good in life's battle.

S.S.S. CURES OLD BLOOD DISEASES

Contagious Blood Poison is responsible for a great many old blood troubles, such as scrofulous affections, skin eruptions, catarrhal troubles, Rheumatism, ulcerating sores, etc. There is no such thing as ridding the system of these effects by killing the poisonous germs. Any medicine powerful enough to accomplish this would also destroy many of the delicate linings and tissues, and wreck the constitution. The only way to cure old blood troubles is to REMOVE the cause from the circulation, and for this purpose nothing is equal to S.S.S. It goes into the blood, and drives out every taint and poison, and makes this vital fluid pure, rich and nourishing. S.S.S. has long been known as the greatest of all blood purifiers and many thousands have rid themselves of old blood diseases by its use. It ALWAYS removes the impurity from the blood and cures these old disorders, whether inherited or acquired. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all. S.S.S. is sold at drug stores.

MAKING READY FOR THE STATE FAIR

Oklahoma City, Sept. 12.—On Tuesday, September 26, the Oklahoma state fair, Oklahoma City, will be ready for the hundreds of thousands of visitors from every city, town and hamlet in Oklahoma and from every section of the United States. After months of preparation, officers of the big exposition are pleased to announce that the results are more than satisfactory. The mammoth show now awaits the verdict of all the people who will wend their way through the 160 acres of education and amusement for twelve short days. What has been accomplished in Oklahoma during the last twelve months? What sort of crops were produced? How did the live stock come through? What are the industrial conditions?

These are some of the questions that have been asked of Oklahoma that have been asked of Oklahoma till the truth is known. The whole nation, therefore, is awaiting the answer that will be reflected in the gigantic agricultural, live stock and industrial displays at the Oklahoma State Fair. Officers of the state fair have gone ahead just as if there was no such thing as a drouth, and paved the way for Oklahoma to show the world that it is a state of achievement. They know that Oklahoma has produced crops equal to those of any other state; that the livestock is in good shape, and the products of the state's industries are as good as the best.

The people of Oklahoma have rallied to the Oklahoma State Fair in its annual inventor yof the state's progress, and they will certainly be on hand, while those who have not helped to make the 1911 fair will come and see what other people have done and make suggestions for improvement.

The fair belongs to the people of Oklahoma. It belongs to every individual. The average man is proud of its greatness and is ready and willing to assist in making it all it should be.

Officers of the state fair want every man i nevery walk of life in the great new state to be sure and visit the big exposition. And they are urged to bring the family. It is pointed out that they owe it to their children. After having helped in the home and in other ways all summer, they deserve a vacation that will be nothing short of a liberal education to say nothing of the world of fun they'll have. Every one is also asked to tell his neighbor about the big state fair; it's a duty to a fellow man, and he in turn should pass the word along.

Half Million for Good Roads.

Tulsa, Okla., Sept. 12.—Everything is in readiness for the election of Sept. 19th, when the residents of Good Roads District No. 1, comprising the city of Tulsa and the greater part of Tulsa county, will vote on the $500,000 goods roads bond issue. The proposition has been approved by over 1000 farmers alone, who signed the petitions asking the county commissioners to call the election, and no doubt is entertained that the issue will carry. The county commissioners have already called for bids on the half million dollar bond issue to be opened September 25th.

Cotton has been coming in at a steady rate during the past few days, and to date about 250 bales have been received. The price is around 11c, but this is not attractive enough to cause many farmers to turn loose, most of the cotton being held for higher prices. They feel that the price is lower than the limited supply justifies, and that in a short time the demands of the mills will force it to a higher level.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

A Simple Remedy Brings Back the Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant dressing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear.

Don't neglect your hair. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today and you will be surprised at the quick results.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle and is recommended and sold by all druggists.
